

When I am reading or writing I can use these to help me:

chip chop

read on

read back

sound it out

LOOKS like
sounds like

does it make sense?

good idea

smooth
operator

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Where is the first letter? • What is the first letter sound? • Get your mouth ready for the first letter sound. • Run a finger under it while you say it slowly. • Slide through the word. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What did you notice? • Why did you stop? • Does it look like.....? • Were you right? • Check it, read it again. • Does it look right? • Does it sound right? • Does it make sense? • Try that again with your finger. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How could we finish the sentence? • Think what you know might happen? • Look carefully and think what you know. • Can you find the tricky word? • Stop reading and think what might come next. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You know part of this word....show me. • Can you hear the first part of.....? • Can you see part of this word you know? Show me. • What sounds can you see in that word? • Cover the..... • What do you notice at the end of the word? • Can you see a small word inside the word that you know?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Let's put 'here comes' together. • Are you listening to yourself? Did it sound good? • Put the words together, so it sounds like talking. • Read it all smoothly. • Change your voice when you see these marks on the page. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It could be.....but look at..... • I like the way you were using your eyes. • What could you check? • Stop and think, to make sure you are understanding. • You tried to think of that word. Good! • You worked that out, just like good readers do. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You said...Does that make sense? • Would....make sense? • Would 'went' fit in there? • Try that again & think what would sound right? • You said....Can we say it that way? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Do you know a word that starts with those letters? • Does it look like a word you already know? • You know the word 'down' this word sounds like it. • Do you know a word that looks like that?
